UPCOMING LITTERS or AVAILABLE PUPPIES

Although this is a list of reputable hobby breeders, it is still a buyer beware situation. Every breeder has a different way of raising puppies and each has a different way of interviewing you or sending out an application to fill out. You must always be mindful of what you are comfortable with and what you are not. Some breeders ask lots of personal questions, and some have contracts that will make your hair stand on end. You should always ask about health testing. Before a dog is bred, it should have its hips x-rayed and cleared of hip dysplasia by OFA and/or PennHip. Other tests available are eyes (CERF), thyroid, and heart. You can use the links below to peruse pedigrees and to validate most health testing. BEWARE! AKC Marketplace does NOT guarantee quality breeders! In fact, several commercial and backyard breeders advertise there.
